About the Course

This flexible course, validated by Sheffield Hallam University, is a work-based learning award that combines health and social care education with either existing employment or work placements to develop your skills and competencies for a wide range of roles across the health/social/community care sectors.

The course offers two routes; entrants already employed in assistant or support worker roles in health, social or community care can complete both the Higher Apprenticeship in Health (Assistant Practitioner) and the Foundation Degree. The course provides you with your continuing personal and professional development and, depending on your employer, would allow you to undertake a Band 4 Associate/Assistant role.

Course Composition
Delivered over two years (full-time) you will spend 2 days a week in college, as well as working at your placement. You will be expected to spend an equal amount of time split between college, placement and self-directed study. Opportunities to receive both summative and formative feedback will be available to all students.

Students are advised attain a work placement/voluntary work in a health and social care setting prior to enrolment on the course. Guidance can be given to students about how to do so. Prospective students should be aware that 400 hours of work experience is a mandatory requirement of this course (split over two years). Students must be able to demonstrate potential to be caring and compassionate, and the ability to develop meaningful relationships with service users and carers.

You will also need to obtain a DBS (Disclosure and Barring Service) check prior to starting your placement. If you already have an up to date DBS check via your employer it may be possible to extend this to cover you for the duration of the course.
