

Brickwork Level 2 Diploma

This Level 2 Bricklaying progression study programme is designed to give you the industry recognised skills required for a career as a bricklayer. This course will further develop your skills in the practical aspects of bricklaying, enabling you to progress into employment upon successful completion.

Quick Information

Qualification:

Date: On Application

This programme is assessed through the use of:

Assessment:

- practical synoptic assessments
- online exams
- completion of a practical handbook

Level: 2

Area: Construction & Building Services

Course Code: CFFBK1

About the Course

This course is available to students who have completed a Level 1 qualification in brickwork.

You will cover a range of bricklaying techniques used within the industry, as well as key skills such as constructing block and cavity walling. You will also be taught the fundamental principles of building on a work site.

Facilities

You will benefit from learning in our purpose-built workshop at City Campus.

English and Maths

These skills are at the heart of Construction, and learners will be expected to complete English and maths studies as part of their programme (unless you hold a GCSE grade 4 (reformed grading) or grade C (legacy grading) in maths and/or English).

Personal Study

You will be expected to work independently on project work when you are not in college, to assist with your revision and independent study skills.

Work Experience

You will complete a mandatory work experience placement in the bricklaying industry.

Enrichment

You will complete non-qualification activities to compliment the work experience placement opportunities offered at Level 2. These activities will include employability skills building, and additional certification in first aid and working at height.
